A FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION, 1840

Contributed by Marty Carr

Silas F. Mead, born 17 March 1812 in Greenwich, Connecticut, came to Washtenaw County in 1835. He worked as a school teacher, as a clerk in the Saline store of his uncle, Silas Finch, and as an operator of the York Mills.

At the time this letter was written, Silas was still a bachelor, as he married Miss Harriett Risdon (1821-1903) in December, 1840. Her parents were Orange and Sallie (Newland) Risdon. Silas and Harriett lived on a farm in Pittsfield Township for eleven years following their marriage and then moved to New Orleans, Louisiana, where he owned a shoe store. During the Civil War Silas made oil-cloths for the soldiers' sacks, but following the city's occupation by Union forces, he worked in the New Orleans Commissary Department for four years. The family then returned to Washtenaw County where Silas worked on his farm until his death on 9 September 1877 at the age of 65. Silas and Harriett are buried in Oakwood Cemetery, Saline, in the Orange Risdon plot. Two sons, William D. and Lewis R., lived to adulthood.

This letter was addressed to Miss Abigail J. Mead, c/o William Finch, Esquire, Stanwick, Fairfield, Connecticut, and signed, "Your affectionate friend and brother." The original letter from which these excerpts have been taken is located in the Michigan Historical Collections, Bentley Historical Library, The University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan.

Saline
July 9, 1840

Dear Jane,

In my last letter I intimated to you our intention to have a celebration in our village on the Fourth of July. Well we carried out our intention in fine style you may be assured and I am going to attempt to tell you something about the manner in which the day was gone through with. Scarcely had the day begun to dawn when the sleeping village aroused from their sweet repose by the heavy discharge of Firearms Anvils twenty-eight pounders and came forth to hail one of the most pleasant and glorious mornings that ever climbed the eastern sky....The day before we had raised a tall Liberty Pole and at sunrise the Stripes and Stars were run up to mast head amid the joyful acclaim of as patriotic hearts as ever beat with quickening pulse to the soul stirring music of drum and fife or the lofty strains of "The Star Spangled Banner." After the hoisting of the Flag the people retired from the grounds to prepare for the duties of the day. During the previous day or two we had erected a large and commodious bower near the village on the green and prepared within it two tables of sixty feet in length each and good convenient seats upon each side of them.

At half past ten in the morning the people began to gather into the church and at Eleven the House was filled with male and female. At Eleven the exercises were opened by an appropriate and heartmelting prayer by the Rev. John O. Birdsale, the Baptist clergyman of this village. Music by the church choir then followed. The Declaration of our Independence was read from the pulpet by Thomas H. Marsh, Esq., one of our lawyers. Music again followed. Then Orange Risdon, Esq., the Pioneer of the country addressed the audience in a eloquent and moving oration of from thirty-five to forty minutes. The oration was the best to which I have ever had the pleasure of listening on a similar occasion. Our attention was first called to the inherent principles of Liberty implanted by nature in the bosom of man. We were then led on to contemplate for a few brief moments the wrongs and suffering our Heroic ancestors were forced to endure under the oppressive yoke of British tyranny....He spoke of the Heroic deeds of the brave band that periled their all in the Glorious cause, of the deeds of daring they achieved and the Glorious triumph over their haughty oppressors....He spoke of our Flourishing State which now holds a high and honourable place in the Sisterhood of the Union. Of what she was a few years ago when the savage held undisputed possession of Forest and plain and the wild beast roamed in quest of his prey unawed by the presence of civilization....Such reflections as these naturally led the orator to direct our minds to Him who has thus far safely led us on after having delivered us from oppression and bondage which he did in the most solemn and touching manner. Music again followed the oration when the Benediction was pronounced.

The company then formed a procession in front of the church in the following order to wit- 1st clergyman, 2nd orator, 3rd Committee of arrangement, 4th Ladies, 5th citizens in general. After the procession was formed thus the martial music marched to the front of the line. The martial of the day superintended the arrangements. The procession now proceeded slowly up Monroe Street to the center of the public square then wheeled to the right on Chicago Street and marched to the eastern suburb of the village then wheeled to the left upon the common. After a short distance wheeled again to the left until the music came to the eastern end of the bower. Here the music parted to the right and left and the procession wheeling still again to the left parted also as they approached the table on the right side of the bower and proceeded through the bower on either side of the table until the ladies arrived at the head of the table where they now began to seat themselves. The table was 60 feet long and was crowded with Ladies and the other table of the same length was filled upon one side also by the Ladies. I never in any place saw the table more handsomely set. We had roast pig as many as 5 I think, roast chickens, boiled chickens, ducks, ham, beef, pork, mutton, in fact we had all the variety the country could afford us. And all was decorated with flowers when we came to the bower. The Ladies soon appropriated these however to themselves transplanting them from the table to their own bright bosoms. After the cloth was removed thirteen toasts were read by the committee each hailed with loud and heartfelt cheers from the Gentlemen and waving of lilly hand and handkerchiefs.

I should have told you we had good tea and coffee at dinner. But upon the removal of the cloth no liquor was permitted to sparkle upon the board. Pure water was only seen then. Our celebration unlike most that have been held this year was no party. It was perfect union - no intemperance was witnessed but perfect harmony prevailed throughout the day....[The thirteen magnificent toasts honored our country, our state and the patriots and leaders.]

The volunteer toasts then followed some of which I will here give you the order in which they were handed into the chairman. I cannot be expected exactly to remember but will give them in their order as near as I can together with the names of those who volunteered them.

An Invocation - May our Nation never be disgraced with the Spirit of Aristocracy. Aaron H. Goodrich. (Uncle William will remember this is the gentleman from Saline he fell into company with on board the steamboat from New York on his way to Hartford some years since.)

The Day we celebrate. While we commemorate the day may we not forget those who spent their fortunes and shed their blood for our Country's Liberty. A. H. Goodrich.

The Memory of all who have filled the Presidential Chair. We can have no greater men. May we never have an inferior. Jeremiah Post.

May the day soon arrive when we will all be free. Charles Cowlan.

As our fore-fathers fought for and won our Liberty, let us with the same spirit in union of hearts strive to preserve it. Frazie Ayres.

Our Venerable Fellow Citizen, one of the survivors of the Revolution - Archibald Armstrong - May his memory live in the hearts of a grateful people long after his waning sun has set in peace. S. F. Mead.

The Ladies of Michigan - lovely as the Wild Rose that bears her name and like it admired. S. F. Mead.

The Ladies of Saline - May they live for free man and free men for them. Linus Potter.

Education - the guardian of our civil and religious liberty. May our government foster it with a parent's care. Jesse P. Warner.

The Ladies of Saline and its vicinity. May Posterity long conciliate their virtues. Orin Draper.

The chain of friendship that has united us in the day's association. May its links never become corroded by the rust of envy or party strife. Orange Risdon.

The orator of the day. May he ever receive the gratitude of his fellow citizens which is truly his by merit. Mial Mason.

Our Navy. May her flag peacefully wave in every port throughout the world. Ebenezer Sprague.

Washington, Franklin and Adams. They planted the tree of Liberty. May their descendants keep it fresh and green. (This toast was given by an old Soldier of the Revolution and was hailed with three times three as hearty cheers as ever broke upon the ears from 300 patriotic voices.) Mr. Spencer.

The citizens of Maine. Before they yield one inch of the disputed territory may the Eagle pluck every beard from the lion. Thomas Tate.

The signers of the Declaration of Independence. May they be remembered until Americans forget to be grateful. Samuel P. Fuller.

The only inquiry of free men respecting their nominee for office should be is he honest, is he capable, is he true to his Country and its Constitution? Edgar Webb.

The 4th of July. May the rising generation never forget to commemorate our Nation's Birthday. Thomas H. Marsh.

The Whigs of Saline who have this day absented themselves from their neighbours and fellow citizens. May they see the error of their ways and repent and return to their first love. Edgar Webb.

This last was hailed with a hearty amen. The occasion that called it forth was too well known to all present to need an explanation to make it understood. The Whigs had a Log Cabin Row-de-dow in Ann Arbor on that day and almost every Whig in town was there. Mr. Webb, the gentleman who gave the toast and 5 others were all the Whigs present with us. There were between 500 and 600 people present about 200 of whom were Ladies....It was truly a proud day for Saline....

In the evening we had splendid fireworks. For about 3/4 of an hour the air was literally full of Fire Balls thrown up by the boys. I have never spent a more agreeable Fourth of July in my life.

FROM OUR READERS

ISRAEL and MARY BIDDLE, Saline, Michigan; Corrections and Additions

It is wonderful to have Family History Capers covering the townships of Washtenaw County with so much detail. I should like, however, to make a correction to a couple of records citing the Biddle family in the Fall 1986 issue on Saline Township.

On page 31 in the "State of Michigan 1845 Census for Saline Township..." I am sure Ezrah Biddle is Israel (written Ezral), and on page 36 in the Index to Saline Township Landowners..." one entry should be Biddle, I, estate, instead of Biddle, L, estate.

My great-grandparents, Israel (1815-1860) and Mary Welliver Biddle (1816-1895) came to Michigan by ox team from Northumberland County, Pennsylvania in 1841 and settled on a farm near Macon, Lenawee County, Michigan. They had eight children: William W. (or M.), Margaret Ann, Alonzo, Martha, Ira Phillip, Elwood, Thomas and Israel Delos (called Delos). Israel and his daughter Margaret Ann died of typhoid fever in 1860. My grandfather, Ira P. and the rest of the family survived. It is told that at age 9 years Ira had to learn to walk again.

Although Israel's wife Mary died in 1895, surprisingly nothing was done to settle the estate until April of 1927 when Israel D. Biddle petitioned the Court for a determination of heirs to the Israel Biddle property in Section 32 of Saline Township.

It was determined that "at the time of his death the following named persons were the legal heirs of said deceased, viz.--William W. Biddle, son, Saline Twp.; Ira P. Biddle, son, Saline Twp.; Elwood Biddle, son, Saline Twp.; Thomas B. Biddle, son, Saline Twp.; Alonzo Biddle, son, Saline Twp.; Israel D. Biddle, son, Saline Twp.; Martha G. Hornbaker, daughter, Saline Twp.; Mary Biddle, widow, Saline Twp."

Israel, his wife Mary, children Margaret Ann and William W., Israel's brothers Abraham and Clark and others are all buried in the Macon Village Cemetery on the lot listed in the name of Mary Biddle.

If anyone has clues to the antecedents of Israel Biddle please contact me.

THOMAS and NANCY TRIPP, Saline Michigan; A Family Reunion

"Thomas Tripp was born at Queenstown, New York, in 1794, and Nancy Stevenson near Dublin, Ireland, in 1798. In February, 1817, they were joined in marriage at Tyre, Seneca County, New York, coming to Michigan and settling at Saline in 1837, where they resided until their death. Mrs. Tripp died in 1876, in the 78th year of her age, and Mr. Tripp died in 1880 in his 86th year.

"Ten children were born to them, and but once during the life of Mr. and Mrs. Tripp were their children all assembled under one roof, all being present at the fifty-first anniversary of their marriage, which event was celebrated sixteen years ago. (1868)

"As it is a very unusual thing to find so large a family of children of their ages, whose ranks have not been broken by death, and being desirous of once more meeting each other in this world, a reunion was planned to take place at the house of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Russell (the children being brothers and sisters of Mrs. R.), in this city, yesterday. There were present ten children - the eldest 67 and the youngest 45 - together with nine grandchildren, one great-grandchild, with their husbands and wives as follows: James Tripp, of Covert; Henry Tripp and daughter Ida, and Robert Tripp of Saline; Mrs. William Beebe, of Freeport, Ill.; Mrs. J. Goodrich, of Auburn, New York; Mrs. Milton Reynolds, of Saline; Mrs. I. S. Bunnell, of Covert; Mr. and Mrs. Arza Pullman and daughter Mattie, of Union City; Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Compson, of Seneca Falls, New York; Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Russell, of Mason; Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Menzie, of Freeport, Ill.; Mrs. Frank Rood, of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Marsh and son Roy, Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Mason and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clark and daughter, and Mrs. Milo Rouse, of Saline; Homer Compson, of Jackson; Charles and Lester Tripp, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Haight, and Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Whitmore, of Mason.

"Yesterday was also the 44th anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Goodrich, and providence permitting, Mr. and Mrs. Beebe will celebrate their golden wedding next June. Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds were married 39 years ago Tuesday, and Mr. and Mrs. Marsh were married 11 years ago Tuesday."

The above is from an 1884 newspaper clipping, paper unknown, and was given to me in 1983 by Paul Tripp of Westchester, Pennsylvania. I am a descendant of "daughter Mattie" (grandmother) listed as attending the reunion. Her mother was Mary Frances Tripp (Mrs. Arza Pullman), daughter of Thomas and Nancy Tripp. Mary Frances first married Albert Winans (Mattie is the youngest of this marriage); after he died she married Arza.

SOCIETY MEETINGS 1986-1987

by Helen Graham

In June 1986 GSWC held its annual picnic at the home of Charles and Teddy Liskow. There was a general exchange of good finds re members' research. Good food and good companionship were enjoyed.

A reading of the Free Church Cemetery on Ford and Godfredson Roads in Superior Township was conducted in July by the Cemetery Committee. In addition to the buried tombstones, poison ivy was discovered by two energetic members.

The September 28 meeting featured Dr. Gregory Rose, Professor of Geography at Ohio State University, Marion, Ohio, who spoke on the "Migration of Yankees to Central Michigan especially Washtenaw County." He pointed out that most of Michigan was settled early by persons from New England who migrated through New York. A discussion of the use of death and obituary notices from newspapers was led by Carolyn Griffin during the lesson hour.

Connie Ayres spoke at the October meeting about the genealogical sources in Washington, D.C. Mrs. Ayres arranges trips to our National Capitol for persons wanting to do research there at the various libraries and the National Archives. In the lesson period chairmen of the various committees of GSWC explained the work each is doing and encouraged all to participate.

The combined November-December meeting again featured traditional holiday food and an exchange by members of stories of family traditions and experiences. Because of the bounteous food presentation no class was held.

The January 1987 program was given by Richard Doherty, president of the Detroit Society for Genealogical Research. He spoke about the use of personal computers in genealogy and demonstrated the Personal Ancestral File program. This is an inexpensive, documented computer program for genealogy distributed by the Genealogical Society of Utah. A variety of paper forms which genealogists can use to organize their work was demonstrated during the lesson following the main program.

Members were informed by Richard Lucas at the February meeting of the various series of Michigan land records available for their use at the Library of Michigan. Mr. Lucas, who is the Michigan Documents Librarian at the Library, described the rolls of films of the Eastern Land Division which document the federal sales of Michigan land and told of the finding aid he has created for finding a particular township on these rolls. James N. Jackson, a certified record searcher from Troy, discussed in a most interesting manner the use of census records during the lesson period.

William Miles, Librarian at Clarke Historical Library, Central Michigan University, spoke to our society in March about the use of plat maps as a resource to document family migrations. A lesson in copying photographs and the use of photographs in genealogy was given during the class hour by Nancy Goff of Ypsilanti.
